Years of Experience in the Eastern States.

Selling goods on close margins is something the average California merchant is often realize. They laugh at the pennies, but the pennies make the dollars, and everybody wants to want them.

Cents for Ball's Corsets,

Which is a saving of 30 of those bright pennies, and it will buy 9 spools of COATES' COTTON. A great many of these little items go to make up a vast amount of saving at the end of the year.

Handsome Lace Curtains and Cornice Poles Free,

Another Item Worth Saving.

All through our Hosiery Stock, and almost every item in our Underwear Stock will show a noble little saving to the prudent purchaser, while our Dress Goods Department shows wonderful saving.

NOTION

In California have always commanded an exorbitant profit, and there is no good reason why they should. We are selling and showing in Buttons, Laces and Handkerchiefs, and even in our present prices they bring good profits. We are showing

Bright Handsome New Designs in Lawns,

And styles that will please you in Percales, Cambrics and Satteens. Shetland Shawls, Sun-proof Scarfs, and fine Cashmere Shawls, for light wraps, are having a splendid sale, and we now have a full and complete line of the very latest designs.

We desire to call your attention to our Gents' Furnishing Goods Department. It will not be limited by any man or boy who has ever purchased, that by great odds our goods of a like value are much cheaper than any furnisher on the Coast.

WEIL, BACH & CO.,

Manufacturers and importers of Gents' Furnishing Goods in San Francisco were recently visited by fire. They sold us, amongst numerous other drives and splendid values,

50 Dozen Laundried White Shirts,

Which cost them to manufacture from $12 to $24 a dozen. We are selling the entire line at $1 apiece, leaving the customer to select the quality they may desire. Like men's all-wool summer cashmere shirts at 50c. that are worth at least $1.25. Gentlemen's hose, four for 25c. and upwards, in plain and striped.

COME EARLY,

For these goods we do not promise to have the entire week. We say on the after noon of the ladies to our closing efforts to sell off our Summer Goods. During the week we will sell four lines of Dress Goods at 12½c. a yard that we s for more money and which are sold all over for 25c.

We will remind you of our Domestic Department. The assortments are being badly broken. The prices on all our Lawns, Satins and White Goods have been reduced.

We are selling the best Children's Hose in the country for 10c. For ladies we are doing still better, giving good value in Striped Hose at 10c., and in imported full-finished Hose we have four different varieties at 25c.; worth double. In ladies' muslin underwear, we claim to lead in style, quality and price. We are selling a ladies' chemise, trimmed and tucked, for 25c. that you find difficult to buy at 50c. A gown at 75c. that we formerly sold for $1.25, and which we claim is worth $1.50. Ladies' and children's merino and muslin underwear never had the values for the money under our roof that they now have. Drop in and see us.

WE NEVER HALF-STATE THE VALUE OF THE GOODS

AMERICAN FRUIT EVAPORATOR!

The most practical and reliable Fruit Evaporator made. It gives unobstructed hot air currents above and BELOW all fruit, thus insuring evenness of drying and no spoiled fruit. Beware of infringements. THE AMERICAN is pre-eminently the fruit-raisers' machine. Its sizes grade from domestic to manufacturing wants. It makes the highest quality of work with ordinary care in handling. There is no need of making anything else. Though we approve a slight use of sulphur, the AMERICAN is specially adapted for highest grade of unbleached work. It places Fruit on cut fruit first in highest and dryest heat; cures cut surfaces at once and keeps them dry, thereby setting and making permanent the color, and also thereby, as in broiling steaks, securing the quality in product. We our experience in evaporating at the disposal of our customers. In some cases no gratuitous service is of more value than prices paid us for evaporators. Sold by

A Home for Health, Pleasure and Profit!

HEALTH

PLEASURE

PROFIT

Four Hundred feet above the city with the most perfect natural sewerage, tempered with a delightful atmosphere, and a sanitarium for persons with weak lungs, asthma and kindred diseases. This is verified by actual residents on the tract.

The most delightfully located tract as to natural scenery, climate and convenience to city and mountains; on the only good carriage road in the county, and those who know say is in a real pleasure to live in such a location.

Now we do strike you. This tract is (or will be August 1st) connected by steam street with Commercial street Depot. Rapid Transit is now in successful operation on horse railroads, and this place will be within 15 minutes of the depot or 15 minutes of the Courthouse.

The difference to TAXES of a home on this tract (it is outside city limits) and one in the city will pay the owner's fare to and fro daily during the year. It brings you as near the business center as you would be at Twelfth street. You can own a lot large enough to have cow and chickens, grow some fruit, keep the boys at home off the streets, live at home with your family stable, enjoy life, and you can, happy and well, and make money by it.

THE PLACE is HIGHLAND PARK, just four miles from the Courthouse, on the new Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley Railway, and on the direct road to Pasadena, and must be seen to be appreciated. Lots for sale in any size to suit, at prices that will command attention.

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma AND CONSUMPTION,

Together with the Eye, Ear and Heart; Also All Chronic Diseases, and Particularly Those Incident to Females, Successfully Treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.,

M. C. P. & S. O.,

Graduate of Victoria College, Toronto, Ontario; Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario; for three years Assistant Physician of the Chicago and Cincinnati Throat and Lung Institutes; for fifteen years, and still, proprietor of the Detroit Throat and Lung Institute; also Lieutenant Physician in and for the State of Michigan, and for several years Proprietor of the Ontario Pulmonary Institute and Health Resort at Toronto, Ontario. Over 30,000 cases treated by us during the past nineteen years.

In order to show how successfully lung diseases can be cured when properly treated, we give the testimonial of one who is well and favorably known by many of the people of Los Angeles. From Rev. L. B. Fiske, D. D., President Albion College, Albion, Mich., formerly pastor of Central M. E. Church, Detroit, Mich., and editor of the Christian Advocate:

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 22, 1877.

DR. WILLIAMS—Dear Sir: I am glad to add my testimony to the efficacy of the treatment you have received. In the Spring of 1877, my son, then at the age of 19, was suffering from a severe affection of the bronchial tubes and lungs, so as to be compelled to keep his room, and the most of the time his bed. Within the space of two weeks he experienced about a dozen hemorrhages, from which the ordinary remedies afforded but temporary relief. I applied to you and you began him with inhaling medicines, which effected an immediate arrest of the bleeding, and which has never returned, since he began the inhalation.

Respectfully, L. B. FISKE.

LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

VOL. VIII.—NO. 60. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 12, 1885. FIVE CENTS.

The Times.

Office—Temple, Main and New High.

It was General Vandever, and not Colonel Hines, as stated yesterday, who delivered the oration at San Buenaventura last Saturday. The latter was first selected for the honor, but was absent from town, and General Vandevere was substituted.

GRANT wrote his own eulogy when, in 1880, he wrote the following about Abraham Lincoln: "A man of great ability, pure patriotism, unselfish nature, full of forgiveness to his enemies, bearing malice toward none, he proved to be the man above others for the great struggle through which the Nation had to pass to place itself among the greatest in the family of nations. His fame will grow brighter as time passes and his great work is understood."

THE pall-bearers at General Grant's funeral were representative national men, with few exceptions. Sherman and Sheridan, Grant's closest soldier friends, represent the army; Admiral Porter and Vice-Admiral Rowan represent the navy; General Joseph E. Johnston and General Simon B. Buckner, among the ablest living ex-Confederates, represented the army that surrendered in 1865; Hamilton Fish and George S. Boutwell represent the Grant Cabinet; George W. Childs, Senator Logan, George Jones and Oliver Hoyt represent Grant's personal friends in New York and Illinois.

MANY newspapers have criticised McClellan for going to Colorado at a time when other Generals who served under Grant were hastening to New York to pay the last respects to the dead commander. The San Francisco Chronicle makes this pertinent comment: "It could not be expected that McClellan would feel any deep interest in Grant's funeral. He failed conspicuously where Grant succeeded. Contrasts were always drawn between them, and to the detriment of the man who was not a military success. It is not in human nature for a man under such circumstances to live down what he regarded as gross injustice to him. It is far easier for the man whom Grant whipped in fair fight to forgive him than for those commanders whom he displaced because of his superior ability."

AT the Confederate reunion near Fort Worth, Tex., Congressman Reagan indulged in the following glorification of Jeff Davis and the ex Confederacy: "The Confederates were imbued with the highest principles, but they should give the Unionists credit for the same feeling and purposes. They were honest and earnest on both sides."

Referring to DAVIS, he said: "The Confederate chieftain developed an amount of patriotism, self-denial and devotion rarely witnessed in the history of a man."

Judge Reagan further said: "It had been his good fortune to meet the first men of the nation during the last thirty years, and he unhesitatingly asserted that Jefferson Davis was the greatest man in mind, ability, and in character and attainments' he had ever met. He sometimes thought that the curse of God should fall on the people of the South if they ceased to love, honor, respect and venerate Jefferson Davis."

COL. FRED GRANT, in an interview, spoke very sorrowfully of his father's loss, and very proudly about the great tribute which the people had paid his memory. "I consider that greater deference was shown father's memory yesterday [Saturday] than ever has been shown to any other American citizen," he said. "It was, of course, a mournful satisfaction to me. The family fully appreciate the spirit which prompted the great procession." He said the General's book will be published shortly; that all the manuscript left by him will be published, and the story will be brought down to the author's death. Regarding the removal of General Grant's remains, his son declined to speak, merely saying that was a subject for future discussion. He thought his mother, who is strong, would speedily recover from her recent prostration. The family goes back to Mount McGregor, there to remain until fall, when they must separate. "Mrs. Grant will doubtless occupy the house on Sixty-sixth street (said Colonel Grant), but there will be no repairing, no painting nor papering. We have not the means with which to make any repairs."

The Yaqui War.

San Diego Bee, Aug. 7.] Colonel M. A. Ferrer, of this city, has received another letter from General Carbo, Commander-in-Chief of the armies in the State of Sinaloa and Sonora, and the Territory of Lower California, who is at present fighting the Yaqui and Mayo Indians in Sonora. The letter is dated Guaymas, July 31st, arriving here on the evening of the 5th of August, by way of Nogales and Benson. In his letter General Carbo states that it is raining. It is his opinion that General Cajome, of the Yaquis and Mayos, will be compelled to surrender in a few days. In case they don't, with a tortilla and a cigarito the Federal troops can fight day and night without stopping, not needing any other food to sustain them. It is General Carbo's determination either to have them surrender or kill every solitary one of them. To show the character of the General we append the following from the Call of July 19th:

General Carbo, of the Mexican army, now commanding in Sopora, and waging war against the rebellious Yaquis, is a man more generally feared than loved or admired. His late savage order to bring before him, either dead or alive, the person of a Mexican editor who has been so unfortunate as to incur his wrath, is but an example of the ferocity which prompted him to issue the command, for it is well known that when General Carbo is offended with any one that man, woman or child suffers the extremest cruelties, and often death; and should the unhappy journalist fall into the hands of this savage military man, it is more than certain that he will welcome a violent ending.

* * * * *

A MAN OF BLOOD.

General Carbo's appearance bore out the justness of the Mexican's remark. A short man is the General; not over four feet six inches in height; his hair is jet black; his eyes small. It is a sinister face, showing neither pity nor courage. A brutal face in every respect —with its heavy jaw, heavy nose, heavy lips and heavy mustache. A face one would immediately imagine that could see with ruthless eyes and unmoved countenance the performance of unheard of cruelties. Like a tiger in his ferocity is the General. He was dressed in uniform—an ill-fitting tunic, with huge red epaulets, which seemed to cover the entire shoulder and blade, great strap around his waist, which hid nearly the body and chest, and attached to a huge sword. He irresistibly reminded one of some wretched fly through whose body had been wantonly pierced a big darning-needle.

WASHINGTON.

An Amicable Arrangement with Roach's Assignees.

WHITNEY TO FINISH THE CRUISERS,

And the Other Men to Handle the Money—Department Mailers of Interest.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Judge Chaney said to-day that the investigation of the Coast Survey Bureau and the report thereon to the Secretary of the Treasury are completed, and nothing more remains to be done in the matter by him. He denies the contemplation of a supplementary report on the workings of the Bureau, as he says it is not necessary. He expects to return to Washington in about three weeks, when he intends to begin investigating into the conditions and workings of the Geological Survey. The Fish Commissioners will also be investigated.

Treasurer Jordan says that the statement of a misunderstanding between the incoming and outgoing Sub-Treasuries at San Francisco regarding the count of money in the vaults, is premature, if not entirely incorrect. He has received no information on the subject, and if there had been any misunderstanding of the kind stated, he certainly would have heard of it.

SANTOS LIBERATED.

Secretary of State Bayard, to-day received a telegraphic communication from the American Consul at Guayaquil, Ecuador, saying that he had positive information that Santos had been liberated. No details were given in the telegram.

TO BLAMEIZE THE CRUISERS.

The following naval board has been appointed to meet at the Delaware Iron Works, Chester, Pa., to-morrow to make an examination and take an inventory of the three cruisers Chicago, Atlanta and Boston, which were being constructed by John Roach: Assistant Naval Constructors J. F. Hanscomb, J. H. Hoover, Richard Gatewood and Louis Nixon.

TRANSPORTING THE GOLD COIN.

An appropriation of $100,000 was made at the last session of Congress for transportation. About $40,000,000 in gold coin is to be transferred from the Sub-Treasury at San Francisco to the Sub-Treasury at New York. Owing to the high rates asked by the express companies the Secretary of the Treasury decided to transfer the coin by Government mails, so about $10,000,000 have been transported in this way. The money was mailed in $100,000 packages. In view, however, of the publicity which has been given to this method of transportation, it has been deemed best to suspend further shipments of the precious metal for the present.

MONUMENT SUBSCRIPTION OPENED.

Agreeably to announcement made a few days since, subscription books have been opened at all of the Pacific Coast telegraph offices in aid of the fund for the erection of a monument over the remains of General Grant in New York.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE INDIANS FURTHER.

General Armstrong, who recently investigated the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian agencies, and whose report thereon had much to do with the issuance of the proclamation ordering cattlemen off that reservation, will soon proceed to the Apache agency for the purpose of making an enrollment of Indians there, and inquiring into and reporting the condition of affairs among the Apaches.

SECRETARY WHITNEY AND THE LITTLE JOB.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Tribune of tomorrow will say that the Secretary of the Navy received this afternoon the assignees of John Roach & Son, George H. Weed and George W. Quintard and their counsel, Aaron J. Vanderpoel. To judge of what could be learned about the consultation, Mr. Whitney is to take charge of the works, plant and tools of John Roach & Son, and finish the cruisers. Mr. Weed is to handle the money and make the profit, if there is any, acting virtually as the paymaster of the Bureau, as he says it is not necessary. He expects to return to Washington in about three weeks, when he intends to begin investigating into the conditions and workings of the Geological Survey. The Fish Commissioners will also be investigated.

Treasurer Jordan says that the statement of a misunderstanding between the incoming and outgoing Sub-Treasuries at San Francisco regarding the count of money in the vaults, is premature, if not entirely incorrect. He has received no information on the subject, and if there had been any misunderstanding of the kind stated, he certainly would have heard of it.

Mr. Weed is to handle the money and make the profit, if there is any, acting virtually as the paymaster of the Bureau, as he says agent. The compromise is looked upon as the outcome of Secretary Whitney's determination that it was impossible to complete the cruisers at the Government Navy Yard. The plan was investigated, the place selected being the yard in Brooklyn. Upon advices furnished by his agent, Secretary Whitney found it would cost at least $300,000 to get the yard in condition to do the required work and buy the necessary tools, and even then it would have cost five times more in labor and materials to do the work than it would cost the contractor. The Tribune goes on to say that Secretary Whitney found the contract for the cruisers with Mr. Chinagy was $285,000, and that if done in Roach's yards it would cost $192,000 to complete her. That the contract price for the completion of the Atlanta and Boston was $85,000 each and that the work to be done would cost $40,500 each. These were conditions that were discussed at the conference, and the result was an arrangement by which the assignees are to release the shipyards and plants and materials without dispute to the Navy Department, and the work of completion is to be carried forward under the Secretary's personal supervision. The assignees, however, are to furnish labor, materials and tools, and are to receive full contract price for each vessel. It, however, it should cost more money than the stipulated price to finish the cruisers, the bondsmen are to hold themselves liable. This plan was entertained by Secretary Whitney when he issued his order of August 7.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Maxwell a Commissary Oddity—Telegrapher Strickland Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Maxwell, the supposed St. Louis murderer, was taken East this afternoon. He maintained to the time of leaving the same cool, indifferent air which he manifested yesterday, and passed the day in smoking cigarettes, chatting and reading novels. He consulted General Clunie, of this city with a view of retaining him as attorney, but Clunie declined. Maxwell has proved himself such a consistent oddity that the police officers have begun to doubt his sanity.

JOHN W. MORELAND DEAD.

John W. Moreland, one of the most phenomenal as also one of the best known telegraphers of the United States, died at Oakland, Cal., to-day of consumption.

MURDERED HIS COUSIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Leon Satero, a Mexican sailor, aged 27, was to-day stabbed and killed by his cousin, named Clemente. The murder was the result of a quarrel. Satero objected to the presence of two persons who accompanied Clemente to a room in which lay the body of an old woman, a friend of Satero, whom he had been nursing, and who had died only a few hours before. Clemente escaped, and had not been captured up to midnight.

CHOLERA.

Attacking the Doctors—Archbishop of Seville Dead.

MADRID, Aug. 11.—Relatives of cholera patients in many of the Spanish provinces assault the doctors, in the belief that they poison their patients. The Archbishop of Seville died of cholera yesterday.

MADRID, Aug. 11.—There were 3510 cases of cholera and 1342 deaths throughout Spain yesterday. The statistics, however, do not convey the whole truth about the prevalence of the scourge, as they are not complete. Cholera has made its appearance in Barcelona, Bilbos, San Sebastian, San Andre, Huesca and Tolosa.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 11.—There were 39 deaths from cholera in this city to-day. Fourteen new patients were admitted to the hospital. Several cases of cholera are reported from Basses Alps.

THE Boomers Break Camp.

CALDWELL, Aug. 11.—Payne's Oklahoma colony, which has been in camp here some months, is now breaking up, in compliance with instructions from Captain Couch. He interprets the present action of the administration as the inauguration of a movement which will lead to the opening of Oklahoma in the near future, and, with a desire to avoid causing an embarrassment of the work, has requested the colony for the present to disband. Some of the colonists will do freighting from Caldwell to Fort Reno. Couch and Secretary Blackburn remain here to look after correspondence.

Cuban Bandits Shot.

HAVANA, Aug. 11.—Col. Angel Bodriguez and six bandits belonging to the party of Tarro Jiminez have been shot at Matanzas. They were captured while negotiating for outward passage.

THE FUNERAL.

The Exposures Not Yet Fully Known.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Much of the funeral car drapery was taken to Undertaker Merritt's last night, and what remains will be taken there to-morrow. Mr. Merritt said he did not know what disposition he would make of the material. The original cost of the car was something over $1500. All published statements concerning the cost of Grant's funeral are pure guess work. Things have not yet taken such shape that it could be otherwise. Mr. Merritt said last night that he could not tell what his bill would be. He did not know yet what were the expenses of a number of details which had been executed by him, and until he knew this it was impossible to make even an approximate estimate of what his charge would be. The first order came to him in a telegram from Col. Fred. Grant the day the General died. This covered the canopy, coffin, embalming and all that was done at Mount McGregor.

The second came from the War Department, and covered the funeral car, 500 carriages and work here in the city. So far as he knew now, he should render one bill to the government and another to Colonel Grant.

What the doctors' bills are, is equally as much in doubt. Dr. Douglas, up to the time of the General's death, had received from the family only $1000. This was in the form of a check made out by the General himself on receiving an installment of his retired pay.

The Monument Fund Opened—Vandals at the Tomb.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Grant monument committee has already received subscriptions amounting to $36,000.

Park Commissioner Crimmins says: "Now that we have completed the tomb, the necessity of guarding it will be seen, when I tell you that the mania for gathering relics has induced several persons to chip pieces off it, and one man was found actually squeezed behind the tomb ready to carve his names on its side. When the United States guard is withdrawn we shall put twelve policemen on duty to protect the tomb, unless a military guard is continued by the State."

A Great Monument Association Formed.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—At a mass meeting in the Assembly Chamber to-night, a Grant monumental association was formed. Governor Stoneman was elected President, Dr. H. Latham Secretary, and Vice-Presidents were named from each county in the State. The object of the association is to secure the erection of a Grant statue in the Capitol Park.

FAMILY CROOKEDNESS.

A Case That Excites a New Jersey Town.

PATTERSON, N. J., Aug. 11.—The Coroner of Patterson, accompanied by the Chief of Police, the Coroner of Hunter's Point, Long Island, and a couple of physicians, went to the Lutheran Cemetery, near the latter place, to-day to exhume the body of a woman. On the way to the cemetery, Chief of Police Grant told a representative of the Associated Press the following story. "For two years past a family named Bauer, refugees of highly respectable position in society, resided at Haladon near Paterson, N. J. The Bauers had previously resided in New York City, and appeared to be people of wealth. Early in last June Mrs. Bauer was taken sick, and after ten days died, as certified by attending physicians, of peritonitis. Mr. Bauer seemed to feel the loss of his wife deeply, and had an expensive funeral. The memory of the late Mrs. Bauer almost died out in Haledon, when some strange rumors got afloat which startled the community. It was learned that Mrs. Bauer's life had been heavily insured in several companies, and some peculiar circumstances surrounding her illness and death led to the suspicion that she had been murdered in order to obtain the amount of insurance and defraud the company. The total insurance on the life was $35,000. It is understood that the Equitable Life Insurance Company paid the amounts of their policies before the rumors of frauds got abroad. The officers of the Mutual Reserve Company, learning of the supposed foul play, after consulting with other companies, decided to withhold payment until a thorough investigation had been made. The theories advanced by them were that Mrs. Bauer had been personated, or that she had been taken away and another body or dummy buried in the cemetery. Arriving at the cemetery the body was exhumed and the coffin opened. Upon being measured the body was found to be six inches shorter than Mrs. Bauer's height when alive. One physician, who had examined Mrs. Bauer when applications for insurance were put in, said Mrs. Bauer had a pug nose and light hair, while the corpse had a Grecian nose and dark hair, but he would not be positive on all particulars. Drs. Satterthwaite and Cheeseman of New York, then opened the body and took out the intestines, which they examined and sealed up. They refused to give the result of the examination, until they shall have made a more careful examination in New York, where the intestines have been taken. The body was again placed in the coffin and re-interred. Louis Bauer, husband of the dead woman, to whom all of the policies were payable, carries on a real estate agency at No. 180 Broadway, New York.

A TELEGRAPH WAR.

Western Union Trying to Gobble the B. & O. Line.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A lively controversy is in progress between the managers of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph line and the Western Union. Some heresy correspondence has passed by cable between Garrett of the B. and O. and Field, who is in London. To-day Dr. Norvin Green, Superintendent of the Western Union, published a card, which he says reveals correspondence had by representatives of the two companies, relative to the purchase of the B. and O. line. The card concludes with a series of dispatches between Cyrus W. Field, in London, and Jay Gould, in New York, running from June 27 to August 4, in which Field says he has been invited to meet Garrett, who says he can arrange with Mackay to act as to settle the tariff for cables as well as for the land line, and adds that he thinks Garret and Mackay are sick of their investments and would like to come to some agreement. Gould replies that B. & O., as nearly as he can learn, are losing over $50,000 per month in their telegraph business, and it is only a question of time when it will carry down the Baltimore and Ohio Company. He suggests that if the Baltimore and Ohio folks will let the Audit

The City Bonds Proposition.

On the 17th instant the voters of the city of Los Angeles will be called upon to vote on the proposition, recently formulated by the City Council, for the issuance of bonds to aid in municipal improvements. The ordinance was, after discussion and amendment, unanimously adopted at the meeting of the Council on the 30th of June, and provides for the issuance of city bonds to the amount of $245,000 (an amount within the limit prescribed by the charter), to be distributed as follows: For improving the irrigating system, $120,000; for bridges and streets, $20,000; for City Hall, $65,000; for sewers, $40,000.

The principal grounds upon which this measure commends itself to public support are:

1. The improvements are confessedly necessary.

2. It would be a hardship to raise the amount needed by direct tax.

3. It is right in itself, and expedient, that posterity take some hand in this necessary work—bear some part of the expense of improvements which will be for all time, for the lasting benefit of the city, and will make valuable the property of those citizens who shall come after us.

4. The issuance of the bonds and the undertaking of the improvements desired will put in circulation nearly a quarter of a million of dollars of fresh capital, which will find its way largely into the pockets of the working classes, giving just so much additional employment not to be found in the ordinary course of trade, thus stimulating the industrial activities of the community and at the same time securing improvements which the city must have, and which will add directly to the value of every property-owner's possessions.

These are among the principal arguments for the bonds, and they seem to us good. Against the proposition no sufficient objections can be urged. It has been objected that a City Council which was not elected on such an issue will have the spending of the money to be raised; but even if this were a valid objection, it will be seen by a little reflection that it is not a fact. Should the bonds be voted, it will hardly be practicable, owing to a want of time, for the proposed improvements to be even commenced during the incumbency of the present board, and there will thus be afforded an opportunity for the whole question to be passed upon by the voters at the next municipal election. A Council can be elected, if need be, on the improvements issue.

The objections, so far as we have heard them stated, to the issuance of bonds, are therefore insufficient, while the arguments in favor of the measure are strong and conclusive.

The justice of the proposition to distribute the cost of the work over a series of years, instead of putting it all upon the men of to-day through a direct tax, cannot be successfully denied. There is plenty of precedent and abundant good sense to back it. It is for the interest of the small tax-payers to favor the bonds, because the influx of fresh capital and the enhancement of property values which the scheme of improvement will surely bring must have the effect of offsetting many times any increase in the rate of taxation involved. And as to the heavy tax-payers, the same line of argument holds good. All citizens interested in the advancement of Los Angeles are in the same boat. The large property owners could hardly make a better investment than to aid in the general improvement of the city, the inevitable and early result of which will be to materially enhance the value of all real property owned by them.

The necessity and desirability of the proposed improvements being so obvious and so generally conceded, we do not consider it incumbent to argue that branch of the question at all; and we therefore close this article with the expression of the conviction that the voters and property owners of the city of Los Angeles will do themselves a service by voting, at the special election of the 17th inst., "For Bonds—YES."

The Atlantic and Pacific.

The TIMES has already published, in its telegraphic columns, an abstract of the annual report of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company recently submitted to the directors. Following are further extracts:

In regard to the California Southern Railroad the following statements are made:

Since the Atlantic and Pacific company secured control of the road to Mojave, the California Southern Railroad Company has been reorganized upon a strong financial basis, and sufficient funds secured to complete its road from San Bernardino north to a connection with the Atlantic and Pacific road near Waterman, a station about seventy miles east of Mojave. The work of construction of this new line is vigorously prosecuted, with the expectation that it will be completed not later than October, 1885.

This company has no pecuniary interest whatever in the California Southern Company, and has not assisted in any manner in its construction. At the same time, its completion and friendly co-operation are anticipated with much interest.

When completed, it will form, in connection with the Atlantic & Pacific line, the most direct route between the prosperous towns and rich agricultural communities of Southern California and the East, including the far-famed fruit-raising districts of Los Angeles and San Diego, as well as direct access to the best harbor on the Pacific ocean in this State, outside of San Francisco.

The report closes as follows:

In conclusion, your directors are convinced, after a careful examination of the whole situation, that the prospects of the Atlantic and Pacific Company were never more satisfactory than at present, and that, in a short time, the results will prove the wisdom of its projectors, and satisfy and protect those who have aided in its construction.

Railroads and Rumors of Railroads.

The times are full of surprises in the matter of railroads for this end of the State. No sooner do we see the new San Gabriel Valley Railway and the Second Street Cable line well along towards completion than there come reports of numerous other projects for branch lines, spur-lines, cable roads, narrow-gauge motor roads and street-car lines.

In Los Angeles city the Hellman Street Railroad is about to be extended to East Los Angeles. A new company has obtained a franchise for a cable road out Temple street. Another company is asking a franchise to run on First, Olive and intermediate streets.

Eastern capitalists have been looking over the ground with a view to building a cable road from Los Angeles to Pasadena, and it was reported some time ago that they had fully determined to engage in the enterprise. It hardly seems feasible, in a business point of view, that they should parallel a road just built, but they are the financial doctors, and if they choose to invest their money in that way the public has no right to complain.

It is well determined that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is going to construct a spur road from the vicinity of Pomona to Riverside, and that it expects to have the line completed in time to handle the next orange crop. At Wilmington another spur is to be built, running to Long Beach. This latter is well in hand by the enterprising founders of the Long Beach settlement, and there is no doubt but they mean business.

It is an open secret that the Atlantic and Pacific Company expects to connect its main line with the San Gabriel Valley road, and will run into Los Angeles over the track of the latter. A "pointer" which a San Bernardino county paper obtained from the Atlantic and Pacific headquarters mentions, among the points on its Pacific Coast line, Colton, San Bernardino, Sierra Madre Villa, Pasadena, Los Angeles and Santa Monica. To these points the company announces that it will send through cars. This means, if it means anything, that the Atlantic and Pacific will come into Los Angeles on the San Gabriel Valley road, and, moreover, that it will run to tidewater at Santa Monica. In support of the latter hypothesis, we learn that the company has had surveyors out locating the most feasible route from Los Angeles to the ocean and prospecting the coast line about Santa Monica.

San Bernardino county papers bring reports of still another road, which they denominate a "motor" line, and which is projected to run from San Bernardino to the San Jacinto country, via Riverside. The rolling stock is to be narrow-gauge, but the roadbed is to be laid with three rails, so that broad-gauge trains may pass over it.

These make a total of ten distinct extensions, branches or new lines which are talked about or are already in progress. Some are merely street railroad lines or extensions, it is true, but, on the other hand, one is a powerful transcontinental line, and several others are enterprises of no mean proportions. Taken together, they make a showing of railroad activity which promises great things for Southern California. A few of the projects may be illusive, and we do not doubt that they will fall to the ground. But there can hardly be more than two or three in the whole lot for which this unfortunate end may be reasonably predicted. The greater part are bona fide enterprises, in the hands of men or companies of well-known standing and abundant means. There is no reason why the people of Southern California should not indulge in the most sanguine expectations regarding the railroad outlook.

RAILROAD TALK.

Project for a Motor Line from San Bernardino to San Jacinto.

[San ernardino Index.]

For some months negotiations have been in progress with Eastern capitalists looking to the building and operating railroad motors, for the construction of a motor road from San Bernardino to Colton, and from there to Riverside. The two branches are to be constructed with three rails, so that railroad cars of the standard gauge, as well as the cars of the motor road, can be transferred over the latter's line. From Riverside the plan contemplates a swing around by the way of Hayward, Arlington and Temecaul, to Elsinore and Temecula and the San Jacinto lumber region. The road will be three feet gauge and will partake of the nature of a street car line, and also that of a narrow-gauge railroad. Cars will run at stated intervals for passengers, and also freight trains will be made up and run on standard gauge roads. No stock is sought to be floated in the county; no subsidy is asked from any one. The projectors are men of wealth, and the capital is Eastern capital. All that is asked is a charter from our Board of Supervisors granting them the right to construct their line over the highways of the county. The motive power will be steam. The coaches are peculiar in pattern and are made in Philadelphia. They are called "motors," and are free from the objections that might be urged against locomotives of the usual pattern threading the public streets of our towns. They burn their own smoke, and make very little more noise than an ordinary horse car.

It is assured that, if the charter is granted, the road will be in operation to Colton before twelve months, and to Riverside in thirty months.

"A STRAW" CONCERNING THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC.

[Riverside Press and Horticulturist.]

John L. Trimble, General Western Passenger Agent of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, at San Francisco, sends out a new map of the middle route to the Pacific Coast. Referring to the lines of travel in Southern California for the traveler who starts westward from Kansas City via the Atlantic and Pacific system, the company says: "I immediately east of Waterman is the junction with the California Southern, through cars direct to San Diego via Colton, and to Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pasadena, Sierra Madre Villa, Santa Monica."

This language would indicate that the route to Pasadena and Sierra Madre Villa would be via the new line now being built eastward through Pasadena.

The Wooly Aphis.

Cyrus Marshall, of the Summit, was in town to-day exhibiting some roots of fruit trees affected with wooly aphis, for which he claims to have discovered a remedy. His method is to lay bare the roots, cut off all diseased ones and cover the rest with a goodly amount of ashes before returning the earth. He tried this experiment on fifteen of his trees about two weeks ago, and now new roots are growing where the old ones were cut off and the wooly aphis has disappeared.—[Santa Barbara Press.

DOWN BY THE SEA.

Lazy Life in the Sands and Surf of Santa Monica.

Correspondence of the TIMES.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 4th, 1885.—Having been recklessly tossed about by the surf of the broad Pacific; having driven all around this still, pushed-in, might-be-beautiful town; having dined at its restaurants, promenaded its avenues—where there's "Dirt, dirt, dirt, wherever your feet may stray, and dirt, dirt, dirt, every inch of the broad highway"—having strolled on its frowning cliffs, and dreamed on its yellow sands; having stood on the old wharves, and watched the eager fishers, after long and patient waiting, draw in their lines, empty; after taking in the joy, the merriment, the listless languor, the vanity, zest and curious phases of human nature on the beach—in the morning hours, the hush of twilight and the gloom of evening—have I not the power to make the TIMES and its readers sniff the very sea breeze through print? We have not browsed much over books as yet, but have been listlessly idle—"resting here," escaped awhile

"From cares that wear life away,
To eat the lotus of the Nile, and drink the poppies of Cathay."

The winter sleep of the town is long over; it has on its holiday garments. There is chatter and animation about the sleepy old streets; traveling humanity has filled the place with life. When Aurora with gentle rosy fingers comes forth, in the hush of the wide silence, to usher in the glad morning, and opens her windows wide, from that first gleam of broad sunlight till the night comes down o'er the mountains, and the town is, oh! so still—this unpretentious corner of the world puts on its brightest aspect, takes on new life. It is wise to leave city habits at home, and not try to bring them to this rural elysium. Simplicity of costume and manners belong to this Arcadian hamlet, although it is near the sea. All its places of refuge are full. There is little shoddy element, little fine raiment on the dusty streets, and general good sense regarding the show part of life is discernible. All classes of society are as usual well represented. Los Angeles must be half emptied. We hear it rumored there are some celebrities residing here very quietly, some literary lights and musical stars; but, as they go about unostentatiously, wearing no laurel wreaths on their brows or badge of their profession, they are left unmolested in happy retirement.

The bath, the tour of observation, the chance acquaintance, the meeting with idle dreams, rest and dinner occur "all same" one day with another. The timid woman holds tightly on to the rope and screams at the usual time; the gay (modestly girl), self-assured as in the ballroom, enters the surf without a fear—or even a sigh bestowed upon the figure she presents as she emerges from the bathrooms and dashes into the wild waves. Athletic figures emerge from the briny deep and disappear. In and out, coming and going—

"Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursels as ithers see us."

Fine feathers make fine birds, but close-clinging blouses and trousers, drifting locks and sea-wet drapery don't add to the attractive appearance of the average human being.

Little improvement seems to have been going on since last season. There are more tents stretched along the beach, perhaps nearly two hundred, reaching to the upper wharf. The liquor and wine places are no more seen, and there seems to be a less hoodlum element on the sands. Some of Los Angeles's best citizens are domiciled here, dividing their time between the mountains, Long Beach and Santa Monica. This never will be a gay, dazzling resting place of traveling humanity, but a wayside resort, easy of access, with nothing to create confusion, envy or jealousy. The dust—and such stretches of it!—is the one prevailing fault found. Everybody anathematizes it; everybody wonders why it need be in a town of its size, and filled through the summer months with such a multitude of people rushing in here from everywhere. However, the town goes on in its quiet way most rationally, because it is far wiser to submit to the majority of people its common sense side.

It would be a greater enjoyment if the tent citizens would each place planks in front of their seaside homes, thus making one continuous walk along the sands, and if so many carts and wagons were not allowed at all times to run almost over the people congregated there. There are far more lovely watering places than this, yet the bathing is good, when the breakers are not too heavy and the lookout on the broad Pacific is very satisfactory. Of course we come across folks and folks, but the holidays may be made very restful, with a few tried friends to share your exile from the gay world. We crave a little breathing time to rest aching breast and toil-worn fingers.

"At Nature's feet, ah! let us nestle,
Wife and children, and forget
Our wilderness of unsaid heartstops—
Life over hot for martyrs such a debt."

DESCRIPTION.

This apparatus consists of a steam generator, heated by a double coal oil burner, from which a steam jet is forced through a flexible pipe into the fruit to be canned. It is made in two sizes, each nearly spanned, finished in Russia iron, and furnished with a handle, by which it may be easily carried from place to place.

This apparatus is adapted for preserving all kinds of fruits and vegetables in glass or earthenware jars, or tin cans.

ADVANTAGES OF USING THIS APPARATUS.

No jars are broken. The heat is all utilized in the canning process, and none escapes to the discomfort of the operator. By the direct application of the hot steam the fruit is cooked in the quickest possible time and the most thorough manner. Owing to the thorough preparation of the fruit there is no loss from fermentation. Being cooked directly in the jar the natural appearance and flavor of the fruit is fully retained. A pint of fruit cooked in three minutes.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Dr. Sheldon's Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Times—Sir:

I am in reply to a communication from Rector Capel.

Mr. Capel seems to have missed the subject of his lectures and the claims of the Papacy as the "Christ of the Scriptures."

In the first of the series, he tells us, from "a learned scholar" a statement published in a book called the 'Faith of Our Fathers.' If the Monsignor will look up the quoted quotations, he will find the context or the other writers from which they are taken will neutralize and destroy the apparent force of the quotation he has put to us.

In the 5th quotation from the beginning of the chapter from which the extract is taken he deals with it, it is plain that it refers to the teaching of Christ, and "it would be tedious to enumerate all the quotations" of the kind.

Nothing falsely equivalent to the Catholic Church can be found in the Catholic Church, but the very next page fails to the meaning of the Church which Rome would put upon it, and although to all the world his resurrection He would leave the Holy Ghost. Whosoever sins ye remit they are remitted unto them, and whosoever sins ye retain they are retained. Yet that he set forth unity, he arranges by the words of that unity and assuredly the rest of the Apostles were the same as Peter, and this is the partnership, both of power and unity."

Now I give as specimens, which might be greatly multiplied. Take me more quotation. It is only if we lived towards each other in such unity. Though they had been some adverse remarks that which ultimately led to the papacy, I quote him as the first Protestant. John, the Apostle of love, writes: "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." Paul writes: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers." Peter writes: "Be clothed with humility." James writes: "Be not many masters." Jude writes: "Earnestly contend for the faith once delivered to the saints." John writes: "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God." Paul writes: "Let no man deceive you by any means." Peter writes: "There shall be false teachers among you, who shall bring in damnable heresies." John writes: "Many false prophets are gone out into the world." Paul writes: "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith." Peter writes: "There were false prophets among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you." John writes: "Every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God." Paul writes: "Though we or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you than that we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." Peter writes: "Whereunto ye do well that ye take heed as unto a light that shineth in a dark place." John writes: "Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ hath not God." Paul writes: "Now we command you, brethren, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly." Peter writes: "Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness." John writes: "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." Paul writes: "Be not many masters." Jude writes: "Earnestly contend for the faith once delivered to the saints." John writes: "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God." Paul writes: "Let no man deceive you by any means." Peter writes: "There shall be false teachers among you, who shall bring in damnable heresies." John writes: "Many false prophets are gone out into the world." Paul writes: "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith." Peter writes: "There were false prophets among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you." John writes: "Every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God." Paul writes: "Though we or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you than that we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." Peter writes: "Whereunto ye do well that ye take heed as unto a light that shineth in a dark place." John writes: "Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ hath not God." Paul writes: "Now we command you, brethren, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly." Peter writes: "Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness."

BANNING COLONY.

LOCATION:
Banning, San Bernardino County, California, on

Line of Southern Pacific Railroad, miles directly East of Los Angeles Railroad running directly through center of tract.

ALTITUDE:
2500 feet above sea level.

WATER:
Absolutely pure, clear and soft, and abundance of it.

ATMOSPHERE:
As near perfect as can be found on the globe.

SOIL.
Rich, deep and adapted to the production of the peach, apricot, pear, apple, nectarine, plum, prune, raspberry, blackberry, strawberry, gooseberry, cherry, and the entire grape family, both raisin and wine.

Depot, expresses and postoffice, store, meat market, good school, fine Union church and the best country hotel on the Pacific coast.

The above are some of the many advantages this colony possesses, and the managers are all reliable business men, and now offer land in this colony for sale to actual settlers, and to those who come to California seeking homes, as well as to those already in the State. We say come and examine land and water, and we will guarantee satisfaction. Stop at the Bryant House and ask for the manager of the Banning Land Company's forms, etc., address.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Government bonds strong.

The stock market was weak. At the opening of the Exchange this morning the market was led by Western Union, which broke on a statement published by the President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the effect that there was nothing in the reported negotiations for working arrangement or consolidation between that company and the Western Union. This was soon followed, however, by a reaction in which Western Union, Lake Shore and Grangers took lead. The highest prices of the day were, with few exceptions, made in the forenoon; but the gains over yesterday's best figures were for only small fractions in some cases and nothing in others. Prices began to yield shortly before midday, and the market continued moderately active and weak throughout the afternoon. Some stocks yielded slowly, but without reaction, until the last hour, when they became comparatively steady and continued so until near the close, while others were persistently weak to the end. Western Union was especially weak in the afternoon and closed with a net loss of 1¼ per cent. It is said the recent advance in Fort Worth and Denver securities was on an effort to pick up the stock for the purpose of securing control. Union Pacific was decidedly weak in the afternoon, and closed with a loss of ½ per cent. The Northern Pacific was dull and heavy, and Pacific Mail was partially weak, closing ¼ per cent. Other changes are for small fractions, but nearly every thing on the list is lower. The total sales were 358,958 shares, an increase over the four hours yesterday of 6700 shares.

CATARRH!

And Consumption are Caused by Atmospheric Germs, Which Develop into Parasites. These Diseases are

Scientifically Treated by

W. N. DAVIS, M. D., M. C. P. S. O.

Graduate of "Chicago Homœopathic College," Chicago, and "College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario," Canada. HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIALIST in Diseases of Ear, Nose, Throat, Chest, and all Chronic Diseases.

CATARRH

Is caused by the presence of parasites, microscopical in size, in the mucous membranes. The germs are deposited from the air and become parasites. The nasal passages become more rapidly in systems debilitated from any cause, as in scrofulous subjects and in those suffering from malarial poisoning, which causes the blood to become impoverished.

The catarrh is first located in the anterior part of the nose and then passes back to the throat, and if not cured, from thence he is scarcely ever free. This gradually extends to the posterior nares, and consumption is expected, especially in the morning, from the throat, but in rare cases there is no throat disorder, a dry secretion in the nostrils alone being present.

In time the mucous membrane becomes thickened, so that respiration through the nose is difficult or impossible, then the germs are deposited in the throat and bronchial lungs. This stage of the disease will be noticed by a hacking cough or simply a disposition to clear the throat. Sometimes the germs will lie dormant for years until such time as the lungs become 10 x 24 inches for their development. This condition may be the result of a severe cold or any debilitating disease, when the germs are able to multiply and produce its kind. Then colds do not pass off in a few days as before, but we have a case of Chronic Bronchitis or Catarrh of the Lungs, which is often mistaken for consumption and many poor souls have died under this treatment.

Our treatment consists in using such remedies as will destroy the parasites, soften the mucous in the lungs and facilitate expectoration. This gives the system a fighting chance to build up the system and our mild Catarrh Specific will do the rest. Sometimes a climate alone very often apparently arrests the disease, but there is always danger of a relapse until the cause is removed. Nasal Catarrh is frequently cured with from one to four applications of medicine. Every lung disease can be cured if taken in time and in hopeless cases life can be prolonged and rendered easy to the patient.

Simple Nasal Catarrh and pharyngitis can be treated at a distance by writing for list of questions, but if lungs are involved an examination at office is necessary.

Consultation and Examination Free.

The following testimonial of a gentleman well known in Los Angeles, who has law offices at 43½ North Spring street, will show what Catarrh really is:

This is to certify that I am a regularly qualified physician, but not practicing, and have always believed catarrh of the chronic nasal variety to be an incurable affliction, but hearing of Dr. W. N. Davis' new treatment and his success, I applied to him for medicine and determined to try it in the case of one of my friends, and did so with the most satisfactory results, as improvement was immediate, and one prescription effected a cure. The case was of years' standing, and of a very severe type. I can recommend Dr. Davis to any similarly afflicted. S. HALEY, M. D. Los Angeles, August 1, 1885.

No. 77 East Pico street was originally a portion and part of the Childs tract, and the Childs tract is the boundary of the north line and adjoins the Childs Wilcox. That is the cottage, also the fine large grounds that John C. Bell, the auctioneer, sells on next Friday. Do not mistake in the time of day that this sale takes place. It is 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Take the Main street cars, and tell the driver to stop at East Pico street.

PERSONAL.

J. T. Sheward starts East to-day to do his fall buying.

S. H. Mott is a passenger on this noon's train from the North.

L. Jacoby will get home from the North this noon.

N. Cohn will arrive from the North on this noon's train.

J. Losb and his bride (born Newmark) are living in the Hollenbeck block.

Frank A. Miller and wife, of the Glenrock cottages, Riverside, are at the St. Elmo.

Dr. E. Shreiber, of Denver, Col., has been elected minister of the Hebrew congregation.

Ella Tedrick, Riverside, and J. W. Stambaru, San Francisco, are registered at the Depot Hotel.

Rev. Ira M. Condit, the well known Chinese missionary, is making his headquarters in the Hollenbeck block.

R. H. Darby, one of the proprietors of Arrowhead Hot Springs, made this office a call yesterday and reported things in general flourishing.

W. A. Morgan, a young man from Fresno, and son of Mark Twain's sister, is in the city. He goes to San Diego this afternoon, to make his home there.

Hon. Samuel McKinley, of Newcastle, Pa., an ex-Senator of the Keystone State, is visiting his son, City Attorney J. W. McKinley, and is likely to make his permanent residence here.

J. H. Scott, Assistant General Manager of the Arizona and Sonora Railway, and residing in Guaymas, is at Long Beach with his wife, who will remain there some time. They came on their private car, No. 253, Ferro Carril de Sonora.

All About a Buzz-saw.

To-day I start for the Eastern market to make purchases for the early fall trade. During the past season we have been crowded for room. We have been crowded with custom. Our trade was never so large, and as the fall and winter trade is always very much larger, we have had to make preparations to meet the crowds that will surely be with us. We have leased the basement under our present premises, and this will be fitted up in the most approved manner. This will give us more than double the room we now have and will enable us to wait upon four times the number of patrons. We expect to fill these two rooms full with goods, and we expect to treble our present business. The basement will be devoted exclusively to job lots from auction odds and ends that we can buy for less than value and shall use it solely as the great advertising medium for our business. Cheap rent, one management, one cashier, one examiner makes the many expenses almost nothing, and we can well afford to add this tail to our kite to make clear sailing for our main room. Goods will always be sold in our basement for less than value. We are enjoying by far the largest trade in the city in good goods. And we tell you candidly that we will wake them all up on job lots and cheap goods this fall and winter. This is a regular buzz-saw, cross-cut statement, and you can depend upon it, for it is true.

J. T. SHEWARD.

Editor Times:—I desire to correct the account given in Sunday's issue of a fight between two caterers on Commercial street. It was no fight, but an unprovoked assault on me by Ike Greenbaum, a discharged employé, and Charles Youngworth, proprietor of the Model Café. I take this means to publicly deny their charges, and have taken legal proceedings and await the decision of the court as to whether a citizen can be waylaid and abused without provocation. OFF THE ROOF.

The Terrible Fall of a City Laborer.

The old school house on the City Hall lot is in process of demolition, by order of Council, and the work is in the hands of James Cummings, Superintendent of City Work. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning part of his street-cleaning force was engaged in disintegrating the roof. One of them, Wm. J. Moore, of 12 Wilmington street, stood close to the edge, though repeatedly warned not to do so. Suddenly he toppled over and fell in a heap toward the ground, over twenty feet below. He struck heavily on his head upon a bristling pile of shingles, boards, etc., also hitting his hands. He was picked up and placed in care of Dr. Poaps. Moore was found to have sustained the ugly break, known as Collis's fracture, of the right wrist; a bad dislocation of the left wrist; a severe wrench of the back and left side, and two nasty scalp wounds. One of the cuts was on the frontal region of the skull, and two inches long; the other on the rear of the skull, and three inches long. Both went to the bone. It is believed that Moore, who has the constitution of a hickory tree, will recover without any lasting ill consequences. His falling is supposed to have been due to dizziness. It will be remembered that not many months ago a young tinner fell from the cornice of the city building, close to the same spot, and broke both wrists. It seems to be a light-headed locality.

SMALL POTATOES.

A Kick at the Supervisors of San Bernardino County.

Stoddard's Well is a little station in the Mojave desert, on the road from San Bernardino to Daggett. It has the only water between Daggett and Cajon's crossing on the Mojave river, and is the key to the whole road. Some years ago R. Nadeau—then in the freighting business—ran a tunnel into the mountain-side at this point, about 4000 feet above the level of the sea, and secured a flow of fine, cold water. Tanks were erected, and a considerable revenue has ever since been realized from the sale of water to freighters and other travelers. The property has been sold and re-sold, and now belongs to Robert Martin, of Azusa. A Riverside gentleman states that Mr. Martin, not caring to reside on the desert, has offered to sell the well to the county for $155, so that it might be thrown open to the public. Such action would be of great benefit; and it would seem as if big San Bernardino county might afford so small a price for such a gain. The Supervisors, however, wouldn't go above $75 and Mr. Martin will hold on. And the people who have to travel over that way, and still pay two to four bits a head for watering their stock, don't admire this sort of county economy.

A RARE BOOK.

Copy of the King James Bible Printed in 1638.

John Hughes, who recently arrived from Stamford, New York, has a rare old book in the form of a King James Bible. The dedication is "To the Most High and Mighty Prince James, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, etc.," and the history of the Bible, with Grace, Mercy and Peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord." After the Pinis it bears the following imprint:

LONDON:
Printed by Robert Barker, Printer to the King's Most Excellent Majestie, And by the Assignees of John Bill.
Anno Dom. 1638.

An appendix gives "The Historie of the Bible Briefely collected by way of Question and Answer, written by Eusebius Pagit and by him corrected. 1627." Upon the inside of the cover there is a written inscription:

JOHN HOPLEY,

and, following this, a fragment of family record.

Mr. Hughes has been offered $250 for his rare old book.

A FORTUNATE UNIVERSITY.

Another Bequest of $10,000 to the University of Southern California.

A deed of gift to the University of Southern California, conveying property valued at $10,000, was yesterday executed and placed on record. The donor is G. W. Morgan, and the property in question comprises forty-one lots, located in various portions of Highland Park tract. The land is to be sold at current prices as soon as possible and the proceeds applied to the building fund of the University, which will provide for the completion of the building now under way. The instrument of gift specifies that Mr. Morgan shall have the privilege of naming one of the recitation or library rooms in the University after himself or one of his family. Upon the further donation of $15,000 by Mr. Morgan or his heirs, the privilege shall be extended to naming a chair in the University.

Father Upchurch.

Father Upchurch, the founder of the A. O. U. W., and present guest of the lodges and legions of this city, will remain here until Friday, when he starts for a tour of Oregon. A committee of the A. O. U. W. has been appointed for each day of his stay here, to see to it that he has a good time and is made fully acquainted with the beauties and resources of Southern California. Yesterday he was driven through San Gabriel and Pasadena, and to-day will be taken another similar ovation. He will probably also visit San Bernardino before starting north. A private meeting was held at the lodge-rooms last evening.

Meiren's Record.

As to the previous record of McCrea, the "hard" young forger wounded by Constable Ledbetter, Monday, little good is heard. W. D. Lamb, of Santa Ana, whose name McCrea forged to a check, states that McCrea has been in San Quentin. His offense is understood to have been the burglary of a saloon in San Diego county; and his term eighteen months. It is learned from the Sheriff's office that when the authorities are through with McCrea here, he is wanted in San Diego for horse-stealing.

College Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation of the Ellis College were filed with the County Clerk yesterday. The objects are to establish and maintain a college for educational purposes, and to confer degrees. The capital stock, $50,000, is divided into 1,000 shares. The stockholders are, John W. Ellis, 990 shares; W. P. Gardiner, 1; W. G. Cochran, 1; Earl B. Millar, 1; W. L. Mills, 1; H. L. Mac Neil, 1; H. C. Witmer, 1; Geo. F. McLellan, 1; Geo. H. Bonebrake, 1; Dan McFarland, 1; D. E. Miles, 1. The same men are directors.

Not Much of a Day for Vines, Either.

The Santa Ana Herald says:

D. E. Smith, who resides north of town, raised a tomato vine which weighed 600 pounds, and covered nearly half an acre of ground. It was a monster vine, and simply shows that, in our rich soil, there is scarcely a limit to plant growth.

Doesn't the Herald meant that the vine weighed nearly half an acre, and covered 600 pounds of ground?

"30" for Johnny."

The general public is not posted on the significance of the term "30" to the tired telegraph editor of a morning paper, and to the heavy-lidded little messenger boys who bring it to him. "Got '30' yet?" is the first query as the boy comes in from the Western Union office along between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. And if the lad can say "yes" he does it with a sigh of relief. "30" is the telegraphic cypher for "good-bye;" and means to the journalist "no more dispatches to-night."

A dispatch came in last night announcing the death at Oakland of John W. Moreland, a noted telegraphic operator. At the bottom a sympathetic brother operator had ticked off the words: "This is 30 for Johnny. Boys, put it in black."

PROPHET LEWIS.

He Fires Another Proclamation at a Wicked World.

The "Prophet Lewis" is out with one of his able pronunciamentos, which winds up as below. His arguments to induce some one to build a "judgment hall" in which he may hold forth, are convincing:

The above also represent sections of the Wheel of Time, which, like the deacon's one-hoss shay, is about played and equally weak in every part. Humanity is the lash, iron-bound with monopoly Journals are represented by the press. The dirty, gritty oil of hard times has shown that the Wheel is ruined in spite of the spokes—politicians, preachers, lawyers and lecturers who try to hold the crazy thing together with the support of the cold fellies and several other fellows who are not so odd as they ought to be. Tires which ever rotate uppermost are the remembered dudes born tired, and the tires ever revolving in the mud are the tramps who have the tired feeling thrust upon them. For Christ's dear sake who is all that is precious in and to humanity, let Me put on the new Wheel of Time Progress and Eternal Life. I am that I AM ready to fit it on the Axle, which is God. I am the Nut. Crank Me if you can and get the kernel which is Jesus Christ.

The First and the Last.

TO MY PEOPLE.

I, Lewis, your Messiah, know this matter is all-important to you whether any of you think so or not. Think you that I consent to become a fool, save for your sakes? Now just for the fun of the thing Miss Angels, Ingersoll, Puck, Peck's Bad Boy and the Union Army having prepared the way before Me, is it not worth while for some other Angels to furnish Me with a Judgment Hall in this ridiculous Saints may hear the Living Word and judge the world in righteousness? I am the Truth, and alone possess the true combination of all every which unlocks the mystery. You are all ministering spirits and I love to hear my Angels sing. Can you embellish this ridiculous proposition? Suppose that Lewis should not be the Root or Branch, the Missing Link, Philosopher's Stone and Book of Ages, would it become him to go and be a humor Him by laughing at Him, as the poor, deluded critter seems to relish it. a la Noah, Confucius and similar idiots? All who come before Me are thieves and robbers. He not with Me is against Me. Whosoever receives Me as the Messiah, in Him the Spirit of Christ dwells.

I am by reflection,
YOURS eternally,
THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

THE TENDERFOOT HAS FOUND THE BONANZA MINE.

The S. & G. V. R. R.

A little delay is caused in work at present, in awaiting further progress by the graders. Ballasting is now being done extensively, especially near the Arroyo Seco bridge. The yards at this end of the line are being kept in applepie order.

BRIEFS.

The Phillips excursion starts east to-day.

The Santa Rosa sails south this afternoon.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

OLD SANTA MONICA.

THE CAMPERS OBSERVE THE SOLEMN DAY.
Correspondence of the TIMES.]

OLD SANTA MONICA, Aug. 11.—The memorial obsequies of Gen. Grant were observed by the campers at Old Santa Monica Cañon last Saturday evening in an appropriative manner. A huge camp-fire was lighted at 8 p. m., when the campers assembled with vocal and instrumental music, and sang the "Star Spangled Banner," and other patriotic airs. Mr. J. Bogg, of Riverside, addressed the camp on the life and character of Gen. Grant. The speaker closed his address by a brilliant peroration, saying that while the civilization and history of the United States exist the name of Ulysses S Grant will never decay.

This cañon by the sea is particularly lively at t is time. New campers are arriving daily. The campers have inaugurated a series of camp-fire socials. The next will be held on Wednesday evening. CAMPER.

SANTA ANA.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF LAST SATURDAY'S OBSERVANCES.

[Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 10.—Nobly did Santa Ana express her sorrow to the memory of the Nation's greatest and noblest soldier.

Every where were appropriate emblems of sorrow tastefully arranged. All the stores, shops, hotels and offices on Fourth street and others wore the habiliments of mourning as never before. Early in the day people came from the surrounding country in vast numbers to join with the townspeople in the memorial exercises. At an early hour the procession formed on Fourth street and marched to Sycamore Park, just east of town, where the services were held.

A large platform had been erected, which was decorated with mottoes and flags draped in mourning. The motto over the entrance read as follows:

"From the heights of human glory
To the place so justly won,
The Angel of Death has taken
America's noblest son."

Another read, "We mourn as one family."

All the exercises were very impressive. Rev. C. W. Tarr was the orator of the day.

Among the touching scenes was "General Grant's Horse"—a large white horse with empty saddle draped and an empty scabbard suspended from the same.

Colonel Edwards was the marshal of the day, and Captain Berry was master of ceremonies at the Park. Everybody was quiet and orderly, and everything passed off smoothly and without mishap. There were thirty-eight pall-bearers, nineteen ex-Federals and nineteen ex-Confederates. The day was pleasant; not too hot for the comfort of all who participated.
